

Fleet Fletch

POCKLINGTON Runners' very own 'Alar Whicker' - namely Stephen Fletcher, has been on his travels again last weekend when he made the long trek to Fleet near Aldershot to run in their half marathon. This time Fletch wasn't in Pock's colours but in 'Team Asics' new kit, as he is being sponsored by them to run in this year's London Marathon.

The weather conditions proved very hot for this time of year, reaching 17 degrees for the race, and for once Fletch was pacemaker for a fellow runner, namely Eric Pollard from Emmerdale who is also running with Team Asics and has become Fletch's new running partner.

On the day they both ran the entire race together and even crossed the finishing line hand in hand in a time of 2:18 to cap off a very enjoyable experience.

As always, well done Fletch, keep up the good work and enjoy your time with Team Asics.
